

Brook Bond

Brook Bond is the Office Managing Shareholder of Parsons Behle & Latimer's Boise office. His legal practice at Parsons Behle & Latimer focuses on complex business, insurance, environmental, and commercial litigation representing corporations and individuals in a variety of industries including science, energy, construction, agriculture, mining, transportation, insurance, multi-level marketing (MLM) and direct selling.

During the past 30+ years of his practice, Mr. Bond has handled massive cases involving multiple parties, millions of documents, and complex legal and scientific issues. Many of these cases involved environmental contamination and various environmental issues. Mr. Bond has routinely represented companies in environmental litigation relating to pollution and remediation, and insurance companies or insureds in environmental insurance coverage actions. Additionally, he has handled cases representing individuals and smaller companies in various types of business litigation. Mr. Bond has litigated a wide range of cases involving business torts, environmental contamination, real estate disputes, contract disputes, strict products liability, intellectual property, and public entity law. His educational background includes training in genetics, seed science, biology, agronomy, microbiology, biochemistry, and analytical chemistry.